All Together in World War I

Lyrics: “All Together We’re Out to Beat the Huns” (1918)

Verse 1
One night in sleep the Kaiser thought
The whole world he could rule
And when he woke he started in
To plan, the poor old fool.
His spies he sent
On mischief bent in all lands to prepare
The fateful day without delay
When he could spring his snare
He found a chance to hit at France thru
Russian faith to Serb
His robber bands in Belgian lands
The world's peace did disturb
The Belgian braves
The British Tars
The mighty French Creusot soon proved to Bill a bitter pill he could not beat the lot

Chorus
All together! Ev'ry mother's son
All together! We're out to beat the Hun
All together! We'll stick to see it thru
We won't give in until we win and "Win we must" say you

Verse 2
On women then and children too,
The Hun waged war on seas
Then did we try to reason why
Such horrors sure must cease
But German ways In our days are treachrous and unfair
They keep no word that German horde
And treaties they just tear
So Uncle Sam quick told them straight "We'll join the others too"
And now we're bound to win
We'll see the darn' thing thru
The Belgian braves
The British Tars
The heroes of great France Brave Italy
they soon will see America advance
